ABU BAKR AS-SIDDEEQ (RA)
THE FIRST CALIPH OF ISLAM

Abu-Bakr's (Radi Allahu Anhu – may Allah be pleased with him) name was Abdullah ibn 'Uthman ibn 'Amir and he was from the tribe of Quraish. He was also known as Abdullah bin Abu Quhafa. Ibn Kathir mentions in his books "The order and Refinement of the Beginning and the End, by Ibn Kathir, p. 17", "the first to accept Islam from outside the Prophet (sallallahu alaihi wa sallam)'s family, he was tolerant, patient and strong-willed. He was also generous, brave, firm and had sound opinions in grave situations. His trust in Allah and confidence in Allah's promise was absolute. He was pious, away from suspicions, an ascetic in this worldly life, desiring for what is with Allah. He was an intimate companion of the Prophet (sallallahu alaihi wa sallam)."

Abu Saeed al-Khudri, (RA), narrated that the Prophet, (sallallahu alaihi wa sallam) said, "There is no one who has done more favour to me with his life and property than Abu Bakr ibn Abu Quhafa.
